OUSD Celebrates “Classified School Employee Week”

ORANGE, Calif., May 17, 2010—The State of California has declared this week, May 17-21, as “Classified School Employee Week.” Classified employees are being recognized with celebrations throughout the Orange Unified School District.

“We truly appreciate the work that our classified employees give to the students of the Orange Unified School District,” said Renae Dreier, Ed.D., Superintendent of Schools for the Orange Unified School District.

A luncheon celebrating Classified Employees Week will be hosted by the CSEA Executive Board on Wednesday, May 19th, from 11 am to 1 pm at the Handy District Office site for all OUSD classified employees. Hot dogs, chips and cookies will be provided along with a number of prizes to be raffled including Angel’s baseball tickets and gift cards to various local restaurants.

“This luncheon is a way of saying thank you to our classified employees for their hard work and dedication,” said CSEA Orange Chapter President Mr. John Miller.

The Orange Unified School District is located at 1401 North Handy Street in Orange, CA
