Supporting Healthy, Happy Students

The Nohl Canyon Elementary School community has been at it again—planning fun, educational activities that bring our parents, students, and staff together to form even stronger bonds.

Our dads were both the recipients and planners of two events this fall. Our parent group, the Nohl Canyon Student Association (NCSA), coordinated a huge Donuts with Dad event. Students and their fathers were treated to donuts, coffee, and juice. We had hundreds of dedicated dads in our quad enjoying a treat with their kids.

Just a week earlier, Dad's Club hosted a movie night. Students and their fathers watched "Minions" and enjoyed snacks, including lemonade and popcorn.

Red Ribbon Week, coordinated by Holly Schafer, followed shortly thereafter and was kicked off with Nohl Canyon's eighth annual Run For Your Life jog-a-thon supporting healthy habits and serving as one of NCSA's big fund-raisers. The funds will be used to purchase of technology and support the kindergarten through fourth-grade music program, Art Masters, field trips, assemblies, noon sports, and so much more.

A million thanks to this year's jog-a-thon power team, Nancy Shcharber and Laurie Rhode, for the hours of service. And thanks to the Dad's Club for setting up the track and doing the "grunt work."

What great, fun ways to support our school and community, all while supporting healthy habits and lives!
